COX PROPERTY SURVEY

Project Location:

Wasatch County, Utah

Project Description:

This work was a Boundary Survey in a remote, mountainous region of northern Utah. The work was extremely difficult. We spent a substantial amount of time on this project searching for old stone section corner monuments that were set back in the 1800's. We utilized techniques from the BLM Manual of Surveying Instructions to recover obliterated section corners to re-establish lost corners. Our crews covered several square miles of difficult terrain while performing the field reconnaissance portion of the project.
